

Here's a Dallas Lankford-derived simple vertical antenna. Its omni-directional characteristics make it a good choice if you want to snapshot-capture all the signals in a given area. Adding an RF amplifier may be needed if your receiver is somewhat 'deaf' but it will also amplify the noise typical in most verticals.

